Mighty Mouse Reflection

I'm actually very pleased with how my mouse functions. Both my buttons click, although you have to press down a bit hard. The mouse has the look of a store quality mouse. The one place I regret is in the painting. I put WAY too much paint per coat and there was some dripping. It also didn't completely dry even though it sat over 20 hours and there are visible wrinkles from people testing it. The feel of the mouse is quite nice. I think it does a better job of supporting my outer fingers. All in all, I hope to get at least a little real world use out of the mouse.
